Introduction to Yearbook Questions

Yearbook surveys have been popular for ages. They consist of asking a series of short questions to students, teachers or staff about their opinions, hobbies, personal projects or school memories. Generally used to create profile pages, it’s a perfect occasion – and the last one – for everyone to speak to the whole school community. There’s no better way to bring your students’ personality to life on the page!

Yearbook questions are cool for any type of yearbook.

The youngest ones can leave adorable messages to their teacher or tell everyone about their favorite food, friends or pet. Primary school students can answer teachers’ questions about what they’ve learnt during the year. Leavers can leave encouraging or funny messages to the future year 12 students. Higher degree students can share their contact details or even talk about their future projects. Teachers can tell a little more about their hobbies and personalities, and so on. Well, there are tons of ideas that you could use for your yearbook. The only thing you need to keep in mind is that your yearbook will be opened once in a while for the next 50 years. So try to pick questions that give an overview of what life was like in your school in that particular year.
A new process to save time and get better results.

So, it seems like it might be a frantic process to get everyone’s answers.

The first problem is that you don’t necessarily know which questions you should ask. Secondly, you might not know how to distribute them to everyone and you’re definitely not convinced that all your students will answer on time… Well, you’re right, yearbook survey used to be a nightmare for yearbookers back in the days…

Fortunately, Fusion Yearbooks has made this tedious and uncertain process easy and fun!

Now, you and the yearbook committee can invite students, staff and faculty to easily answer online in minutes. All their answers and photos will automatically be displayed on beautifully designed pages which you can easily edit and customize!

In this guide, you’ll also discover how to create memorable profile pages in 5 easy steps. Ask for a free trial account and test it right away: it’s the best way to understand what it does!

Have a great read!

Designing YOUR QUESTIONS

Still struggling to choose your questions? Well, let’s turn this problem upside down. In this section, you’ll find different examples of mood and design. You’ll quickly understand that you can easily create something personal.
If you prefer to keep it simple, we recommend you have between 4 and 6 students per page. Ask them informative questions about their school memories as well as their personal ambitions for what’s next. It’s a simple way to avoid too much fantasy in the answers and makes sure your profile pages won’t need too much editing at the end...
This is the most common profile style. Usually, a professional photographer takes one photo per student and often it’s on the same background for consistency. You can arrange 4-12 students on a page, and ask each participant 2-4 questions each.
Looking for a lighter atmosphere? Ask participants for an informal photo, or use this as a second photo to compare to their professional portrait. Ask original questions to get funnier, more imaginative responses. Try 4 - 6 students per page and up to 6 questions.
Presenting only one student per page can be great if you’d like your students to express themselves more deeply. In this case, you can ask them for multiple photos to illustrate their favorite school or life moments. You can ask them multiple questions to guide their responses, or alternatively give them free reign with a longer answer with titles such as “All About Me” or “My Story”.

Sarah Anne Brighton

Most memorable experience at KHS?

Being the lead in this year’s Romeo and Juliet. It was amazing being able to perform for the whole school! My parents were so proud of me.

What will you miss most after graduation?

I will miss so many things here at KHS! First of all, I will definitely miss all my friends who are going overseas for school. I will also miss being a part of the drama club. Late night rehearsals were stressful at times but always worth the effort.

Where will you be 10 years from now?

Hopefully I will be a famous actress by then. I would love to star in a Hollywood movie!

Any advice for the younger batch?

Always give your best effort at everything you do! It may be difficult at first but just continue doing so and eventually it will come naturally to you.

Creating your own style

You can start from any of the templates that are available and customize them your way. But please keep in mind that the content you want your students to provide will have an impact on page layout. For instance, you can’t have 24 students per page and ask them 6 questions each. It won’t fit on your page.

How Many Profiles Can I Lay Out On A Page?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>How many students and staff do you need to represent in total?</th>
<th>How many profile pages do you want?</th>
<th>The number of profiles per page is:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Example:

- 40 students
- 4 pages
- 10 per page
HOW MANY QUESTIONS SHOULD I ASK?

After calculating how many profiles you’d like to display per page, you can see how many questions you can ask each person. More space allows for freedom in their responses.

To ensure the space is being used well, think of questions that would get interesting and unique answers. Try asking a handful of people these questions, and compare their answers. Ideally, each student’s response would be unique and have different answers for each question. If there is any overlap, revise your profile questions.

NOTE: Address your questions to a small group of students. It’s a great way to check if your questions are relevant and if their answers are interesting.
So, you are now ready to get started with your own profile pages. Simply follow the steps and you'll get stunning results in no time. Enjoy!
1. Set-up a template

First decide if you’d like to create a section for the entire school, per grade/year or per class. We recommend sorting by class, so that you can vary the design. Choose the number of students per page and number of photos per student, then pick your favorite layout.
Build a questionnaire

This is the online questionnaire that will be sent to all your students. List up the questions you want to ask your students. Give a title to the photos you'd like from them (eg: funny photo, baby photo, serious photo, etc.).

"Do you have any advice for the younger students?"
3 Invite students to fill their information

Set up a password, copy the link and send all the details to your students.

Set your password: KHSYearbookRocks!

When connecting, they will see your questionnaire and will be able to fill it in a few minutes.

NOTE: They won’t be able to see the design, so the yearbook stays a surprise.

1 chance is all a student gets to submit their answers correctly - make sure they’re aware of this beforehand.

6 minutes is the average time it takes to fill out a profile online with Fusion.
You will be able to check and edit all the profiles that have been filled by your students in the same place. Ideally you can use this to remove inappropriate content, correct spelling errors or replace bad quality photographs.
When you have all your data from the students (or teachers if you’re making a teacher section), you can now generate your whole profile section with a click. The template you’ve built will duplicate based on the number of student responses. It’s that simple!

You currently have 16 responses.

Generate Profile Pages

NOTE:
Not happy with the end result? No worries! Simply update your design, and re-generate your pages to replace the old profile set. All your student’s data remains the same.
WHAT IF YOU TRIED IT TODAY?

You now have a few ideas to start with. Create your first profile set in minutes!
